

GDPR & Data Policy

In our digitised and globalised world it's important to protect our privacy and personal information. At The Youth Group we are committed to making sure your data is protected. That's why we respect the GDPR rights and follow its principles. As we work with both young individuals and enterprises, it's extremely important that everyone feels safe and comfortable with the information they share with us.

BETWEEN THE YOUTH GROUP AND YOUTH

We only hold basic information about you, such as Name, Address, Age & Background. We share it only with those who can help you, whether it's looking for a mentor, internship, job or something else. We perfectly understand that you might want to keep some of the information just between us and that's fine. As we are the ones who will be helping in creating the relationship between you and your mentor/employer, we have the ability to protect your information if necessary. We want to help you and in order to achieve that there must be mutual trust between us.

BETWEEN THE YOUTH GROUP AND ENTERPRISE

The partnerships that we create with enterprises are very important to us. We understand how important data protection is for every business. That's why we are committed to collecting and using all data fairly and lawfully, making sure that it is safe and updated. We do not hold any excessive or unnecessary information and always follow what's agreed in our contracts.

WITHIN THE YOUTH GROUP

We make sure that all employees' data is protected. We always approach personal information with sensitivity. If anyone has a concern about how we collect and keep personal information they are encouraged to speak up so we can improve.
